

Hey everyone, we are really looking forward to coming together again this Sunday, and really looking forward to seeing you again.

We are going to be taking various steps to make sure we will all be as safe as possible.

First thing you will notice as you come through the door we will ask you to clean your hands with hand sanitizer, just to get rid of those germs.

We will be having spacing between the seats for the purpose of physical distancing. But if you come with people you live with, you can draw those seats together, but make sure there's some distance between the next family or another individual.

We won't have the high contact elements of the service such as the greeting during the service, communion, or kids worship. However, the kids will get to watch some fun videos and some teaching in the children's room during the sermon.
